RESOLUTION

No.L.I.(Sch.)-14/2015-11176/WR. Dated, Bhubaneswar, the 19.5.2015

After careful consideration, the Government have been pleased to make the further modification to the guidelines for exploitation of Ground Water Resources through Deep Bore Wells in Hard Rock Areas of the State under BKVY Deep Bore Well Secha Karyakram as detailed below in order to streamline the procedure and to overcome the problems for installation of Deep Bore Well.

1. OLIC will select a scheduled commercial bank who will collect the beneficiary share on behalf of OLIC.
2. The beneficiary will have to deposit Rs.20,000 in one single installment (Rs.10,000 for SC, ST persons belonging to BPL category) with the nearest branch of the bank.
3. The bank will receive the money keep it in a fixed deposit for 120 days, in the name of the beneficiary, but in the escrow of the OLIC.
4. The beneficiary will be given two copies of receipt; he will keep one copy in his custody and enclose another copy along with his application to the OLIC.
5. The beneficiary shall apply to OLIC within 30 days of depositing the Beneficiary Share with the bank.
6. Each cluster shall have at least 4 beneficiaries for bore wells, 5 beneficiaries for cluster Shallow Tube wells and 3 beneficiaries for cluster Micro River Lift Projects, who shall have deposited their Beneficiary Shares.
7. The OLIC will take up the application and start the work.
8. The OLIC will submit a feasibility report to the bank within the end of 120 days period.
9. If the bank receives such a report within the stipulated 120 days, then on maturity of the Fixed Deposit, i.e. on completion of the 120 days period, it will renew the Fixed Deposit for a further 270 days, continue it under escrow, and inform the beneficiary and OLIC accordingly.
10. If the OLIC submits a report stating that the project is infeasible, or that the cluster does not muster at least 4 beneficiaries, or if the OLIC fails to submit a Feasibility Report with the stipulated first 120 days, then the escrow ends, and on maturity of the Fixed Deposit, the beneficiary is free to collect it, with the due interest, from the bank, following the bank's procedures. He does not need any clearance from the OLIC. However, the bank shall deduct Rs.1000 from that sum towards Application fee and Processing charges, and transfer it to OLIC's account.
11. If the project is feasible, the OLIC shall take up the drilling of the bore wells and electrification of the cluster immediately and shall complete the work within the second stipulated period of 270 days of the Fixed Deposit.
12. On completion of the work, the OLIC shall submit a Completion Certificate to the bank that the work has been completed in all aspects. The beneficiary must also sign the Completion Certificate, acknowledging that the work is complete.
13. On receiving the Completion Certificate, the bank shall, on maturity of the Deposit, i.e. after the term of the Fixed Deposit (270 days) is over, release the Fixed Deposit, along with the accrued interest, to the account of OLIC.
14. If the OLIC needs an extension of time, it shall submit an Undertaking for Extension to the bank, before the term of the Fixed Deposit lapses, that it needs a further 180 days' time for completing the project. The beneficiary must sign such an Undertaking; else the bank will not accept the Undertaking.

15. On accepting the Undertaking, on maturity of the Deposit, the bank shall renew the Fixed Deposit for a further 180 days, and continue to keep it under escrow.
16. If the OLIC fails to submit either the Completion Certificate or the Undertaking for Extension of time before the second Fixed Deposit term of 270 days ends, then it is deemed that the project is a failure; then the escrow is deemed to be over and the beneficiary is free to collect the Fixed Deposit on its maturity with the accrued interest. He does not need any clearance from the OLIC. However, the bank shall deduct Rs.1000 from that sum towards Application Fee and Processing charges, and transfer it to OLIC's account.
17. If the OLIC gets an extension of time, then the work must be completed within the extended 180 days; and on completion, the OLIC must submit a Completion Certificate to the bank, signed by the beneficiary, and on maturity of the Deposit, the bank shall release the Fixed Deposit and accrued interest to the account of OLIC.
18. If the OLIC fails to complete the project and submit the Completion Certificate within the extended 180 days, then the escrow is deemed to be over, and the beneficiary may collect the Fixed Deposit on maturity with the accrued interest. He does not need any clearance from the OLIC. However, the bank shall deduct Rs.1000/- from that sum towards Application Fee and Processing charges, and transfer it to OLIC's account.
19. For the purposes of determining the time limits, the date of obtaining the beneficiary's signature on the Completion Certificate / Undertaking for Extension shall alone be considered, and not the date of submitting them to the bank.
